

WALES IS CHEERED BY 2,000 WOUNDED AMERICAN HEROES

Prince Hailed as "Comrade in Arms" on Visit to Washington Hospital.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Two thousand American soldiers, wounded in France, were greeted to-day by the Prince of Wales as "my comrades in arms" when he called at the Walter Reed Hospital here. A score of men wounded at Chateau Thierry were drawn up in wheel chairs on the lawn of the hospital when the Prince arrived. He turned at once to them and moving along the line greeted each with words of sympathy and comradeship.

The hospital visit followed a call at national headquarters of the American Red Cross, where the badge of membership was added to the decorations on Prince Edward's breast by Mrs. Farrand, wife of Dr. Livingston Farrand, chairman of the Central Committee.

During his visit the Prince inspected the wards where the most severely wounded men were lodged. He went from bedside to bedside and inquired as to the nature of each man's injuries and how he had been wounded. In a brief address from the steps of the building, which concluded his visit, the Prince said:

"It is a great pleasure for me to visit this hospital and see so many of my comrades in arms. I am sorry my stay is so short I cannot see more of you individually. I am having a fine time and enjoying my visit to the United States."

Several hundred nurses and national and district officials of the Red Cross were waiting when the Prince reached the Red Cross Building. They greeted him warmly and among those presented to him were Major Gen. Merritt W. Ireland, Surgeon General of the army; Miss Mabel Boardman, a member of the Central Committee, and Sir David Henderson, director of the General League of Red Cross societies.

The Prince also visited the new Lincoln Memorial. The official programme for the day ended with a luncheon at the British Embassy, but an informal call on Mrs. Dewey, widow of the famous Admiral, was planned for late in the day.

53 THEFTS IN 3 MONTHS.

Girl, Seventeen, Sent to Reformatory by Judge Gibbs.

Mollie Rosenberg, seventeen, who confessed to committing fifty burglaries in three and a half months, was sentenced to Bedford Reformatory to-day by County Judge Gibbs of the Bronx. The Judge characterized her as a "born thief" in passing sentence. She has been constantly in the clutches of the law since she was thirteen years old.

Bronx pawnbrokers rounded up by the police on information given them by Mollie and from pawn tickets found in her possession, brought $5,300 worth of stolen jewelry to the Court House. There is $1,500 loot taken by Mollie still to be recovered.

Renown Arrives to Be Official Home of Prince During Stay Here

THE RENOWN.

RENOWN, OFFICIAL SHIP OF PRINCE, ARRIVES IN PORT

Edward Albert and Suite to Be Received at City Hall Tuesday.

H. M. S. Renown, the ship that will be the official home of Edward Albert, Prince of Wales, during his five-day visit to New York, reached this port at noon to-day and went up to her anchorage in the North River opposite 56th Street.

As the ship passed Governor's Island she fired a salute of twelve guns, and the island guns replied with the same number, although nobody could tell what twelve guns meant.

Ship news reporters called up the chief of staff on the island and asked him, "I don't know," he said. "I'll give you Extension 25."

But "Extension 25" didn't know either. All that anybody seemed to know was that the British had fired twelve and got an answer in kind. Reporters who called up the Brooklyn Navy Yard were told that there was nothing to indicate the meaning of a twelve-gun salute, but it was understood there that some of the British salutes had been changed of late.

It remained a mystery pending explanation from the Renown herself.

The Prince and his suite are to be received at the City Hall next Tuesday at noon. After a brief reception there they will visit Grant's Tomb, and at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon a luncheon will be served on the Renown. The Prince will dine Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry P. Davison, and will attend a gala concert at the Metropolitan Opera House.

He will be the guest of the city, with a very busy programme, for five days, and will sail for Halifax on the Renown at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Through the National Press Club the Prince sent a message of greeting to the American people and paid high tribute to the part played by the American Army and Navy in the world war.

The Prince to-night will be the guest of honor at a dinner given by Secretary Lansing and later will meet members of Congress at a reception to be given at the Congressional Library.

The itinerary of the Prince during his five days' stay here will include a visit to the home of the late Col. Theodore Roosevelt at Oyster Bay on Friday, Nov. 21, where he will meet Mrs. Roosevelt and other members of the Roosevelt family. He will place a wreath upon the grave of the former President.

SEEK POLAR LAND CREW.

Steamship Company Has No Word From Crew of 50 Missing.

R. M. Goddard, president of the West Indies Steamship Company, charterers of the Poland Land, a Shipping Board vessel reported sinking with Capt. W. B. Wheeler and forty-nine men aboard off Sable Island last Sunday, said to-day that no word has been received from the vessel since her last wireless appeal for help.

The U. S. Revenue Cutter Seneca and six other vessels have been cruising about Sable Island since Sunday. Mr. Goddard said, and have sighted no wreckage or no bodies. It is the hope of the officials of the company that the crew were taken from the ship by a fishing smack or other ship without wireless.

ARRESTS GIRL ASKING FUNDS

Policeman Denies Dressmaker Had Proper Authority.

Lacy Price, a youthful dressmaker's helper of No. 128 West 124th Street, was arrested to-day by Policeman Condon of the 104th Street Station charged with obtaining money on falsified authority. The policeman said the girl asked for contributions for "the Sick Babies of Bellevue Hospital." She had no credentials. The hospital denied knowledge of the girl or the fund.

The girl then said she was collecting for the Red Cross.
